
VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITY:

Guide in the Hide

We want everyone in the UK to be able to access wetlands that provide amazing experiences and inspire support for conservation.

It is a great feeling showing a visitor a bird they've not seen before or helping them to tell the difference between 2 species they've been struggling on for ages. That spark of enthusiasm can make such a difference.

Volunteers play a crucial role in saving wetlands for wildlife and people.

This role involves:

- Being welcoming in the discovery hide and bird Observatory helping point out to the visitors what wildlife they can see
- Surveying the marsh harriers and avocets during the breeding season
- Walking around the other hides birding and talking to visitors.
- Updating the sightings board and letting the information desk team know about any exciting sightings.
- Keeping the hides clean by litter picking and sweeping

This role will suit you if:

You love birding and sharing your enthusiasm with others

Practicalities

Where will you be based?	Martin Mere
Who will you volunteer with?	Louise Clewley Reserve Manager
Time commitment?	11am - 4pm 1 day a week

We want your volunteering to be a positive and fun experience. You'll get a warm welcome, including information on training, equipment and other information you need. This will include risk assessments based on your role and any particular support you need.

Volunteers receive access to our sites, and discounts in our shops and cafes. Some roles include a uniform or require the use of equipment or protective clothing.

If you are based at a particular site or office location, you'll need to be able to get yourself there and back. Information on locations can be found on our website.

We will keep you up to date with what's happening across WWT and the difference you will be helping to make happen.

Interested?

If you are interested in this role, please complete an application form so that we can talk it through further with you.

Last Reviewed: Jan 24